ARE ALL EYES

DEFECTIVE?

Certainly it is that many people experience no trouble with their eyes. Naturally a very large proportion of those who consult opticians or oculists have defective eyes, because the trouble they have leads them to the consultation.

There have been quite a number of people in to see me of late who have nothing at all the matter with their eyes.

If you have any doubt as to the condition of your eyes it will afford you a great deal of satisfaction to know positively. I shall be glad to tell you.

CITY HALL AND MARKET.

Shall They Be Combined or in Separate Buildings?

An expression of public opinion is asked upon the above question. The matter is being privately discussed, and it is the opinion of some that the present market house should be enlarged, repaired and otherwise fitted up for the sale of meats, vegetables, fish, oysters, etc., so that such traffic would not be carried on near the proposed new city hall building.

Some good reasons why this should be done are set forth. For instance the smell of fish, meats and vegetables combined does not always strike one as being pleasant, and would be annoying connected with the auditorium and city offices. Then we have the present market house, which is claimed, with a small portion of the funds for that purpose, could be made ample and convenient.

Think about it and express your views through the Telegram.

DEATH OF W. F. HORTON.

The Close of a Remarkably Noble Life Near Raleigh

Yesterday in House's Creek township, six miles northwest of Raleigh, was laid to rest the mortal remains of Mr. W. F. Horton. On a hillside sloping to the east by the side of an orphan child who had been adopted into his father's family in the place of his own choice, this child of God was laid. Dr. Norman's words were beautiful, as he described his life and character. Although he was deaf and dumb, had never heard the song of birds or the prattle of the children, yet he had so lived that his light shone before men, making the world better for his having lived in it. He was a Christian and his convictions were of the strongest kind. In his young days no one enjoyed a circus as he did. He would get his nephews, sons of his brother, Mr. H. H. Horton, and carry them to every one that came to the city. When he had a change of heart he considered it a sin to go to a circus and he not only would not go, but would turn back and take a back street to keep from seeing the parade. It was of this sturdy kind of conviction that made men able to endure burning for opinions' sake. The seal of silence was upon his lips, but his life was more eloquent for God's glory than many voices.

He leaves three brothers, Mr. R. H. Horton, of Raleigh, one of the oldest, not the oldest, engineers in the south who has been on the Raleigh and Gaston road fifty-three consecutive years (my father's friend and mine—an honest true man); Mr. Daniel Horton, of Greensboro, a Christian of the old type; and Mr. Hardy Horton, of Creedmoor. Few men with many more advantages than he had have surpassed him in filling the position assigned him here below as my friend. I worked shoulder to shoulder with him for years. I knew him well and I believe with my few words bear witness to his real worth.—B. K. Lacy in Raleigh News and Observer.

SHAW UNIVERSITY.

The Finest Opening in the History of the Institution.

This institution has just entered upon its thirty-fifth year and the present opening is the most favorable in its history.

The enrollment at the close of the first week was 212. The total enrollment for last year was 313, which was the largest since the standard has been raised, and this year promises to equal if not surpass it. The most gratifying feature is the large number present at the opening. In past years there have been comparatively few, some years hardly any on the first day. The character of the students is of a high order and their qualifications are superior to those of former years. It is observed that year by year there is an improvement in both these respects. The present student body has been practically all from the Southern States and several of the North. The corps of teachers in all departments, with one exception, is the same as last year.

The thirty-fifth anniversary of the founding of Shaw will be observed during the week ending October 14th. It is intended to devote a week to this interesting occasion and to have present prominent men and women of both races from both the south and the north. This will be the greatest event in the educational history of the colored people of the south since the war. The celebration will be held in the North Carolina, and possibly in the entire south.

Nearly all the money necessary for setting up the night schools is in hand and they will be opened up as early as possible in November.—Morning Post.

HON. WILLIAM L. WILSON.

Statement that He is Seriously Sick a Mistake.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 9.—The report sent out from Charleston, W. Va., that Hon. William L. Wilson, president of Washington and Lee University, is dangerously ill, is incorrect. Mr. Wilson is in Lexington, attending to his duties at the University and although he has been under treatment for some months for the thickened lung trouble, there is nothing alarming in his condition. He was on the street this afternoon.

Preparing for an Emergency

Washington, Oct. 9.—R. Ginald Tower, charge d'affaires of Great Britain in Washington, had an interview with Acting Secretary of State Hill today. It is said the purpose of his visit was to ask the state department to designate Charles E. Macrum, of Ohio, United States consul at Patras, as representative of British interests in the Transvaal in the event of war.

The Government has secured the British steamer Benmore and the Russian steamer Dalystock, for transports.

"Pull up!" That's the counsel very often given by a well meaning person to a friend who is slipping down the road of alcoholism.

And when the answer comes "I can't stop," the man is perhaps reproached for the cowardice of that phrase, "I can't."

Perseverance is only a form of disease, and there may come a time in the progress of any disease when it can't be stopped. That's what we mean when we talk of "gallant consumption." It's like a horse running away with us. We can't stop it.

Strength will stop the wildest horse. Strength is the great necessity in the stopping of disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has cured thousands who had obstinate cough, bronchitis, weak lungs, spitting of blood, emaciation, and similar ailments which if neglected or unsuitably treated lead to consumption. It cures by strengthening the lungs and giving them power to throw off disease.

"I had been troubled with bronchitis and catarrh of the head for eight years; had severe cough and at times great difficulty in breathing," writes J. W. Howerd, Esq., of Highfill, Hancock Co., Tenn. "A portion of the time my appetite was poor and part of the time I was unable to do anything. I had been treated by my best country physicians for several years but with little benefit. I had been reading about your medicine for several years but hadn't much faith in it. Last spring I concluded that I would try it and before I had taken one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I continued taking it until I had taken seven bottles. Now I feel like a new man and can do as hard a day's work as any man. I advise all of my friends who are diseased to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

Free. The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser free. Send stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Queen of the Regiment.

(The youngest child of a living Confederate General, the daughter of General "Tige" Anderson, of famous war memory.)

I. A little queen of the regiment! One in her glance shines
That she looks away where the bugles play—over the cheering lines!

That she looks away and a "Hip-Hooray!" rings from the ranks around;
And the boys will battle for her where Love is the battle ground!

II. A little queen of the regiment! and we see in her eyes to-day
The glances of the brave old general who once led the boys in gray!

Is she thinking now of the phantom fields where his dauntless blade gleamed bright—
As it flashed amid o'er the war-swept plain in the glory of the fight?

III. O for the laurels he won in war! but what are they all to this—
To a little queen of the regiment whose lips are his own to kiss!

What were the wreaths that bound his brow when Peace with her blessing crowned him,
To the love that shines in the child-eyes now—to the arms she twines around him.

IV. O little queen of the regiment, crowned of the skies above,
The rippling banner over you is the banner bright of Love!

And fair be your way forever—splendid your dreams and joys
In the arms of your country's hero, with "Hip-Hooray!" from the boys!

—Atlanta Constitution

Wine of Cardui
Nobody knows woman like woman. Men go to medical colleges, study books and listen to lectures. They learn indirectly of the diseases of women, but they are men and can never fully understand the ailments, the sufferings, the agonies of mothers, wives and sisters. A woman knows. Mrs. Roisvert knows. She has passed through the trials and tribulations of her sex. She has been near by when her sisters suffered. She has seen them relieved and cured with Wine of Cardui. It is all wonder she recommends it? Is it any wonder that thousands of other women recommend it? They know. They have actual experience to prompt them. They spread the tidings from mouth to mouth, telling how Wine of Cardui helps young girls, helps the weak of all ages, helps and cures all womanly ills.

Baldness Can be Cured

Just so long as there is a particle of vitality left in the hair roots. The fact that the hair is smooth and shining is no positive proof that the roots beneath are healthy. Deep down beneath the skin, hair roots may get excited, filled with latent vitality, and all that is required to develop them into a beautiful head of hair is the faithful application of the proper agents.

Seven Sutherland Sisters' preparations furnish the easiest, surest and quickest way to secure hair that is as thick and beautiful as a head of hair. Why not try them?

We call your attention to the reading notices of the Provident Savings today. Mr. J. Sterling Jones is the general agent, and what he does not tell you in the ads he will be glad to tell you outside.

Mr. W. R. Forkner has opened a gallery over Ridge's furniture store and is introducing his popular photo business. He also makes cuff buttons, watch charms, hat and scarf pins, besides carrying a full line of the latest photo jewelry.

Mr. C. D. Higgins is now engaged in the extensive manufacture of Tar Heel Cough Syrup, which is made largely from genuine North Carolina pine tar. It is rapidly growing in popularity for its efficacy in relieving coughs that become so troublesome at this season and later on into the winter.

We take pleasure in introducing through our advertising columns to-day Messrs. Smith & Murchison, successors to M. S. Jeffreys in the grocery business. These young gentlemen are well known and deservedly popular, and we predict for them a liberal share of patronage. Owing to the rush of work it will be several days before they will have telephone communication. In the meantime, read their ads and call on them.

OPENED AN OFFICE.

Bradstreet's Commercial Agency Now in Greensboro.

For several months Mr. P. D. Gold, Jr., has been working up Greensboro and adjacent towns with a view to opening up an office, or branch of Bradstreet's Commercial Agency in this city.
Mr. E. S. Strohbar, of Baltimore, division superintendent, and Mr. J. W. 'Amison, superintendent at Lynchburg, are in the city, and today have opened and fully installed headquarters for Bradstreet's, in the Southern Loan and Trust Co's. building, rooms 201-203, with Mr. Gold as superintendent.

They are fully equipped and ready for business with a full set of reports, and are ready to answer all enquiries. The past success and high standing of Bradstreet's Commercial Agency needs no commendation at our hands. Business men everywhere recognize it and depend upon it.

Mr. Gold, the superintendent who takes charge of the work here, is a graduate of the University, and is a bright young man. The Telegram extends to him and the mammoth business he represents a cordial welcome.
Mr. Strohbar says they have long had their eyes on Greensboro, recognizing it as the best and most available distributing point in the state.

Academy of Music Friday, Oct. 13.

Mr. C. E. Foreman, the genial gentleman who manages the "Great Southern Minstrels," tells the following good story on his amiable spouse: While I was on tour last spring with my minstrels Mrs. Foreman engaged a new girl. Several times during the first month she had occasion to severely reprove her for the late hours she had spent in the kitchen with her company. At last she waited one night until within a few minutes to 12 o'clock for the cook's company to leave, and at last determined to impress the gentleman in the kitchen, she called: "Cook." "Yes, mum," was the reply. "I want you to go out and bring me the policeman that patrols this beat," she demanded.

"He'll be op in wau minit," was the answer that startled her, "Shure, 'tis him of hev downstairs here wid me"

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter, nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

WILL COME TO GREENSBORO.

Mr. R. N. Mann Buys an Interest in Elite Confectionery Co

Mr. R. N. Mann, one of the leading merchants of Siler City, has purchased one-half of the authorized capital stock of the Elite Confectionery Company and will associate himself with Mr. Edgerton in the management of this successful and popular business enterprise.

They will handle a first-class line of fancy groceries in addition to their elegant line of confections. The restaurant will be continued and nothing left undone to keep it up to a first-class standard for ladies and gentlemen. They will soon begin the manufacture of candy for the wholesale trade and will put a man on the road to place their goods.

Mr. Mann is an experienced merchant and a reliable Christian gentleman and we welcome him to our city. His family will remain at Siler City until the first of the year, about which time they will move to Greensboro. They will receive a hearty welcome.

Winslow, who has served eight years in the United States cavalry and was discharged as a sergeant from Troop D, Sixth Cavalry, has reenlisted at the Greensboro recruiting station and made special application for assignment to the First Cavalry, now stationed at Yellowstone Park, Wyoming. His application was approved by the Adjutant General and Mr. Winslow will leave for that place tomorrow.
